TROOP 175 IN SIMSBURY IS LOOKING FOR A FEW GOOD BOYS

Boy Scout Troop 175 is looking for boys with a sense of adventure and fun to join us. Our Troop, is sponsored by St. Mary's Church in Simsbury, and meets on Thursday nights from 7-8:30 PM. Boys of all faiths are welcome.

Monthly Trips That Test Our Skills

In the best traditions of Scouting, we are an adventurous Troop with an emphasis on the basic skills of Scouting and putting those skills to test every month on challenging Trips. No Troop in Connecticut has as challenging and exciting mix of trips as does Troop 175. We are an "All Weather" Troop. In just the past year, we went camping and biking on Block Island; we enjoyed Bobsledding with the US Olympic team in Lake Placid (camping in snow caves that night); learned to scuba dive in Massachusetts; explored survival camping at our annual "Deep Freeze" survival shelter trip. The Troop also went skiing in Vermont, climbing, skiing, and boarding in Tuckerman's Ravine on Mt. Washington, climbed two different mountains in the Adirondacks, canoed in Maine, and capped our year with a five day trip to Algonquin National Park in Canada where we canoed and camped in the Canadian wilderness..

Our Venture Crew (Older Scouts) spent eight days in the Main wilderness canoeing 72 Miles on the St. Croix River.

In 2009/2010 we have added more trips to our program

2009/2010 Trips – the Challenges (and fun) Continue

- September - Bicycle trip to Block Island where we'll camp on the Island.
- October – We'll travel to Wellfleet on Cape Cod and bicycle the National Seashore, clam, fish, and build a bonfire on the beach.
- November - annual Webelos Challenge on our "home" turf, Onion Mountain in West Simsbury. This is a great event where Cubs are invited for a full day of Scout activities, and to work with our Scout patrols on making rope bridges, furniture, campfires, orienteering and zip lines. In the evening, the patrols will cook a meal with the Cubs followed by a Troop campfire with songs and skits put on by the Scouts. Cubs are invited to spend the night camping (with a parent)
- December - We will have a reunion trip of our alumni Scouts from college, many who earned the rank of Eagle, to do some backcountry skiing and camping.
- January - Operation "Deep Freeze" will be in Southern Vermont, where scouts will build survival shelters and learn cold weather camping.
- February - Our Annual ski and snowboard trip to Vermont.
- March – This is our cross-over trip for Webelos joining our troop and we'll be holding "Camping 101" at nearby at Roaring Brook. Dads/Moms invited – as always.
- April - Once again we will go to Tuckerman's Ravine on Mt. Washington in the White Mountains. This is one of our most popular trips. In 2009, we had 65 scouts and parents join us.
- May - We will be fishing and camping on Long Island Sound.
- June - 4th Annual Boy Scout Adventure Race. This race was developed by Troop 175 and involves biking, running, canoeing, rappelling, orienteering and climbing in Simsbury in a 16 mile, 4 hour race. Last year we invited the other two Simsbury Scout Troops to join us as a fundraiser. We were proud that in this competition Troop 175 took 8 of the 9 medal categories and set new course records. Boys Life Magazine will run a full picture article of the race in April 2010.

After school ends, we'll take a four day canoe trip in Maine on the Saco River. This is a mini expedition trip as we will carry everything we need with us.

An Emphasis on Leadership Training

Every Spring, we hold our annual Junior Leader Training Program for the older Scouts based on the US Army Ranger program called "No Excuses Leadership". We hold the program in March in the White Mountains at one of the huts maintained by the Appalachian Mountain Club. It's a challenging but fun weekend. We snow shoe in deep snow into the mountains with full packs. There we practice our Scout rescue skills in the snow, engage in team missions, and discuss the leadership styles of many of the great explorers. This year we will return again to the White Mountains and continue our leadership training at Zeeland Falls Hut.

Immortals - The Best of the Best

As an outgrowth of our Junior leadership Training Program, we developed a something special for Scouts who want to push harder and discover new capabilities. They are known as the "Immortals" and are our most advanced Scouts, who have learned and developed extensive survival and wilderness skills taught by our adult leaders. They wear special patches on their uniforms, are given black Machetes at their induction into the group and participate in extreme outings. Their motto is: "to Learn, to Teach, to Serve, and to Lead". They operate without tents, choosing on every trip to build shelters, and they never start a fire with matches, using only flint and steel. They move very quickly through the woods, and improvise almost everything they need from their surroundings .

We were proud when our group of "Immortals" were invited to visit the US Army Mountain Warfare School by its Commander, and to train with the Special Operation Groups that were learning winter mountaineering and avalanche skills.

We constantly work to invent new challenges to test their skills and maximize what they can learn from difficult situations. Last year, we blindfolded the group and drove them 3 hours into the Vermont countryside where they were dropped off on the backside of a mountain in a rainstorm with no maps, no radios, no GPS, no tents, some food, water, and instructions to find the largest lake in the area (about 4 miles away, but they didn't know that). The goal was for the scouts to get a water sample and return it to the drop off in 48 hours. At the next Troop meeting, we presented the same challenge to the younger scouts and asked how they would accomplish this challenge. By the way, like in all of our Scout programs adults were present at all times for safety.

This Spring, the Immortals are determined to conquer a new challenge -- traveling the entire White Mountain Presidential Range -- 8 peaks in 1 long day 20 miles, 6,000 vertical feet.

The Ultimate Adventure -- International Expedition Trips

Each summer, Troop 175 provides an opportunity for its most experienced Scouts to go on an International/Domestic Expedition Trip.

Kilimanjaro - In 2007, nine of our Scouts and their parents traveled to Africa to climb Kilimanjaro. A trip in the planning for over two years, it was an extraordinary adventure. We spent five days climbing the largest freestanding volcano mountain in the world. In the process we went through five climatic zones. Our group of 24 had 76 Tanzanian support Staff as everything has to be carried up the mountain. Our Tanzanian Guides were the best on the mountain and each two-climber team had a guide. On day six we started our final assault at Midnight from 15,500 feet, climbing up the Crater wall. The temperature was 15 degrees; the oxygen level less than half at sea level. We climbed for six hours with four, five-minute breaks. The crater wall was steep and in the dark under a full moon the group slowly moved to the summit. At 6 Am we reached the first summit at Gillmans Point. Water bottles were frozen, and fingers and toes had lost most feeling, but after a brief regroup it was on another two hours around the crater to the final summit at Uhuru Peak at 19,341 - the rooftop of Africa. Our group took a round of pictures and then went back down the crater wall and eventually down to 12,000 feet by 5 PM that afternoon. Everyone agreed that it was the longest – but most memorable day – of their life.

Amazon Jungle – In 2008, we took eleven of our Scouts and Leaders deep into the Amazon Jungle. We flew to Lima, Peru and then into Iquitos, a city on the Amazon River that is the largest city in the world that is inaccessible by road. After a journey up the river of 110 miles we went through jungle training for 3 days with local Indian guides and then departed with a full expedition into a part of the Amazon that had rarely seen humans. Under the auspices of Dr. Paul Beaver and the Amazon Research Center, we observed and cataloged rare species of Monkeys. Along the way we had to deal with tarantulas, poisonous snakes, deep mud, wild boars and incessant rain. It was an extraordinary experience.

Philmont Scout Ranch – This past summer 9 scouts and 3 adults from Troop 175 traveled to Cimarron New Mexico for an unforgettable 2 week backpacking adventure in the Sangre De Cristo mountain range. Philmont was donated to the Boy Scouts in 1947 consisting of 220 square miles of high altitude terrain.

Our crew hiked approximately 65 miles carrying fully loaded backs enabling us to be self sufficient for our 2 week stay. We climbed one of the highest peaks, Mount Phillips at elevation 11,711'. Later that afternoon we cooked our dinner while watching the sunset behind the valley below.

Philmont is a wonderful experience not only for the outdoor adventure but also for the wilderness and leadership skills each scout mastered along the way.

North to Alaska 2010 – Our Expedition Trip in 2010 will be to Alaska. We have reserved 20 RV's with an outfitter in Anchorage and will use these vehicles as mobile base camps. We anticipate as many as 100 scouts and families may join us on the trip, which in two weeks will recreate part of the famous gold rush to the Klondike, climb a peak in the Wrangell St. Elias National Park (the largest National Park IN THE WORLD), raft one of the great Alaskan rivers and of course, catch and eat plenty of Salmon, which will be in full run during our visit the end of July and early August.

Maintaining the Scout Tradition of Public Service

Troop 175 also is actively involved in the community and demonstrates that a "Scout is Helpful" on a regular basis. Our Scouts have done numerous projects for our Sponsor St. Mary's including; setting up and helping to run the St. Mary's Carnival, building steps from the parking lot, building a new Christmas crèche for the Church, and rehabilitating the rear entrance to the Church with a new fence and sign. Our scouts have also collected school supplies and delivered them, in person, to a community in an impoverished part of India, designed and placed new signs educating visitors about the history of Simsbury along Iron Horse Blvd, constructed bird houses for Roaring Book Nature center, initiated a new "green" effort for the Town of Simsbury by building and placing recycling bins in eight public locations around town, collected hundreds of suits for a charity in Hartford, and performing importance trail maintenance at the Onion Mountain Park.

In 2008 we organized the Michael Bubnash Adventure Race where we raised (with the other 2 Simsbury Troops) over $25,000 for Michael's medical care, an Eagle Scout from another Simsbury Troop. Scouts from Troop 175 raised over 75% of the donations. Our Scouts put on their uniforms spread the word to local businesses and spoke from church pulpits all over town and collected the money in coins, cash, and checks. Some of our 3-man teams raised over $4,000 for a boy they had never met, but who they knew was a fellow Scout. We believe strongly in "being part of something larger than one's self".

Helping Scouts Down the Path of Advancement – Our Record and Philosophy

Troop 175 has an enviable record of working with boys to help them achieve the skills and knowledge they need for advancement, including the ultimate rank in Boy Scouts, Eagle. In the history of our Troop, 70 boys have advanced to the rank of Eagle, including 26 in just the past four years. This high level of achievement is virtually unprecedented, and we are justifiably proud of these motivated achievers. This year, we anticipate having an additional 6 scouts receive this rank, the highest award in Scouting and one that we take seriously in terms of preparation. It's interesting to note that, in general, our Scouts get this award at the age of 16 or 17, which is older than in many other Troops. While it is possible to receive your Eagle at a younger age, it is rare in our Troop because we believe that the Eagle badge means boys take the time not only to earn merit badges, but also to learn how to lead. We believe that there is no shortcut to learning leadership. It takes time and experience. Frankly, our older boys stay active because we provide the type of adventure that holds their interest. It is often said that no award or honor received prior to a boy's eighteenth birthday is so revered in later life as the Eagle Scout Badge. Ask any Eagle Scout.

Leadership

We are proud of our adult leadership at Troop 175. It's deep and experienced. Our Adult leaders have camped, climbed, fished, hunted and explored on many expeditions. They are all great teachers. In addition we have a very high participation by the Dads (and Moms) in our Troop and it is not unusual to have 15-20 dads on a trip. No experience is necessary and if you were never a Scout as a boy this is your second chance to learn the ropes. We have a Parents/Leaders Patrol, the "Usual Suspects," on each trip and we eat very well (a source of some pride and a fair bit of competition) and share a lot of experiences as Dads and as professionals from all walks of life.

Our Troop is boy led, and our leaders are selected by the adult leadership based on their performance and ability to lead. The senior patrol leaders and patrol leaders share their wisdom and pass on their knowledge to the younger Scouts through our trip and advancement programs. Boy Scouts is one of the very few organizations where boys can be put in leadership positions at ages as young as 12. Good leaders often appear early and the fun of scouting is watching them "take the lead".

Troops are only as good as the boys who want to step up and take charge and the adult volunteers who are there to assist. Our 2009 – 2010 leaders are:

Mike Vallen- Senior Patrol Leader, (Lead Scout)

Mike is 17 and a senior this year at Avon High School where he is the captain of both the Varsity Cross Country team and Varsity Crew team. He is also a member of the Varsity Swim team. He became an Eagle Scout in May, 2009. Mike along with Life Scout Keegan Rice, and Eagle Scout Lee Adamowicz set the record this past year for the Adventure Race beating the previous time by 30 minutes. Mike is also a Cadet for the Volunteer Fire Department in Avon. This past summer he was the number one pick (as well as the youngest) for the Rookie class at Stone Harbor Lifeguards in New Jersey. He was proud to reach the summit of Mount Kilimanjaro in Africa in 2007. In 2008, he hiked the Inca Trail to Machu Picchu, Peru. He is a member of the Order of the Arrow and is a founding member of the Immortals.

Jake Van Loon- Assistant Senior Patrol Leader

Jake Van Loon is a Junior at the Kingswood-Oxford School. He is 16 and a Life Scout. Jake swims on the varsity swim team for KO and also for Charter Oak Team, and is also taking Lifeguard Training. Bob is an Eagle Scout. He has been an Assistant Scoutmaster with Troop 175 for 10 years, and is a member of the Immortals. He has extensive outdoor experience including three extended trips to the BSA Maine High Adventure Base – one as a Scout and two as an adult leader, backpacking on the Vermont Long Trail, and annual extended hunting trips to the remote North Woods of Maine. Bob works as a natural resource biologist with the Connecticut Department of Environmental Protection, Inland Water Resources Division. He is also a registered Soil Scientist. He holds an MS degree in Wildlife Management (Frostburg State) and a BS degree in Natural Resources (URI). Bob's professional interests include wetlands ecology and wildlife, fisheries and soil science. His son, Brian, received his Eagle Scout Badge in 2006.

David Carter - Assistant Scoutmaster

David is a former scout and has re-found his Scout skills as an adult leader. He teaches numerous merit badge classes and has traveled with the troop on trips in 10 states. He helped lead the Amazon 2008 trip. David came to Simsbury following 20 years in Washington; most recently as a Presidential appointee and executive at the Export-Import Bank of the U.S. Currently, he heads corporate communications for Aetna. He has two sons, Cortlandt, who received his Eagle award in June 2009 and is a freshman in college, and Robert, who is Immortals Chief and a Life Scout.

Peter Van Loon - Assistant Scoutmaster

Peter is an Eagle Scout and a previous member of the Navy's Explosive Ordnance Disposal Team. He returned in 2007 from Afghanistan training Afghani Regulars. He has extensive experience in the outdoors, both mountains and deserts. He co-led the Philmont 2009 Trip and will spend this next year in Djibouti as a member of the Navy Reserve. He works in Aetna's Finance as steward of their IT department. His son Jacob is a Life Scout and Assistant Senior Patrol Leader.

Mark Drake - Assistant Scoutmaster

Mark Drake has been an Assistant Scout Master with Troop 175 for 5 years. Mark participates in many of the Troop trips and is one of our Senior Scout instructors and a member of The Immortals. Mark is a master fire builder and campfire chef. He is a self-employed general contractor. His son, Max is Assistant Scout Master.

Tom Nicholson - Assistant Scoutmaster

Tom began his scouting career as a youth in Adirondack, NY and recently held Pack, District and Council leadership positions in N.J. before moving to Ct. He has been a Scout University and District Trainer and received the Wood Badge. He is a hunter, kayaker, scuba diver, skier and fisherman. He coaches at fast Pitch nation and works for Eastern Mountain Sports in their retail division. He is a member of the Ct First Company Horse Guards. His son TJ is a Tenderfoot scout.

Lee Adamowicz - Assistant Scoutmaster

Lee is a Senior at Simsbury High School where he is on the student council and is captain of the crew team. He is 18 years old and an Eagle Scout. He is a member of the Simsbury Fire Department and runs his own landscaping business. This past year Lee served as the senior patrol leader of troop 175. As a scout, he was part of the 12 man Philmont crew that went to the National Scout ranch in Cimarron, New Mexico in 2006 and a member of the 2008 Amazon Jungle Expedition. A graduate of the National Outdoor Leadership School, he spent 30 days this past summer camping and mountaineering far away from civilization in the British Columbian coastal mountain range. During this time he learned many valuable leadership skills and perfected many skills associated with living well and efficiently in the outdoors. Lee is also founding member of the Immortals.

Max Drake - Assistant Scoutmaster

Max Drake, is a Senior at Simsbury High School. He is 18 years old and is a Life Scout. Max is an expert at all aspects of Scouting and one of our most expert teacher of younger scouts. Outside of Scouting, Max is an avid mountain biker and is a founding member of the Immortals.

Richard Cady - Assistant Scoutmaster

Rich, a Scouter for over 15 years, advises our Venture Crew. He's earned the Wood Badge Award for advance Scout leader training and attended the Philmont Training Center. He is a Brotherhood member of the Order of the Arrow and has earned both the Boy Scouter and Boy Scout Training Awards. His junior leaders nominated him for his receipt of the Scoutmaster Award of Merit. Rich enjoys the outdoors and has served as adult Advisor for Florida Sea Base and Philmont Trek Crews. He was 1st Assistant Scoutmaster for Troop 503 at the 2005 National Scout Jamboree in Virginia. He served the Metacomet District in several capacities. For his service as Troop 175 Scoutmaster for over 8 years, he received the 2006 Simsbury "Hometown Hero" Award.

Attendance

The non-school life of most boys in Simsbury is sports. Many of our Scouts play competitive sports and indeed often captain their Varsity teams. We require a 50% meeting attendance and a 50% trip attendance in order to advance rank in our Troop. This allows boys to do both sports and Scouts.

Parent Involvement

Troop 175 is successful because of the volunteer work of dozens of parents. Our Troop Committee, chaired by Jamie Kalamarides, meets once a month and consists of 16 positions that are filled by individuals who spend many hours making sure we have the resources to run an organization of 80 Scouts. In addition we have many Mom's and Dad's who take on one project a year or are regulars on our trips, where we need many drivers to move this Troop to the different trip venues. The reward is many new friendships and many nights around a campfire sharing stories, values and occasionally politics. We often have parents come on trips when their kids can't go. We welcome all assistance anytime, anywhere. Many of our Adult Leaders stay on even after their sons turn 18 and go off to college. We encourage this continuity and experience. For many of us Scouting is life long passion - not something that occurs just during the teenage years.

How to Join

If you're a Cub, we will be contacting you throughout the year as we have various events.

If you're not a Cub, are at least 11 years old or have completed 5th grade, then please go to our website.

If you are already a Scout and have just moved to the area, give the Scoutmaster a call. We would love to have you join us.

Troop Website

The Troop Website (www.simsburytroop175.org) packed full of information on our Troop policies, registration information, and programs. It also links to Troop Photo Albums with over 4,000 pictures of "Scouts in action".

Final Thoughts

We are very excited about what we do at Troop 175. The values expressed by the Scout Law and the Scout Oath are great compasses to teach and to live by. Coupled with the Scouting Skills and "friendships made for life" the Scouts is a well-defined path through a boy's "years of change." In 2007, as we were coming down Mt. Kilimanjaro, I asked one of our Scouts "When did you know you were going to make it to the Summit?" He looked at me and smiled and said "before I left my house Mr. Mead, before I left the house." The confidence, the spirit and the skills – it's what Scouting does. Its why Scouting Counts. Come be a part of it.

Yours in Scouting,
